

Patients May Have to Travel

By WAYMAN C. DUNLAP
Associated Press Writer
EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Senior citizens here who have signed up for the federal Medicare program have learned that, unless they are willing to travel some distance, their $3 a month is going to waste.

The disclosure came when it was learned Tuesday that Warner Brown Hospital, which was certified eligible for Medicare just six hours before it reached the deadline, has been taken off the list of the eligible hospitals.

Wilbur J. Cohen, undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, telephoned the hospital to inform them that due to "non-compliance" with Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, their acceptance had been reversed.

Title VI is the non-discrimination requirement hospitals must meet to be accepted for Medicare.

The only other hospital in this city of some 25,000 persons is Union Memorial, which has not submitted an application to join the program.

"We were told that our rooms are not integrated enough," said Fred H. Smith, assistant administrator at Warner Brown.

"We have tried since June 7 (to become eligible) and Negro patients have been admitted on 'color-blind' basis."

Smith said, however, a "size-able number" of patients in the hospital have said they didn't want to be in racially mixed rooms.

Twenty-eight patients in Warner Brown were already under Medicare when the reversal was announced, Smith said.

He said that anyone falling under Medicare's jurisdiction would have to travel to Hampton or Crossett, where accepted hospitals are located, to be treated.

"Of course, we will still take emergencies, as we always have," he said.

The HEW's displeasure probably was due to the fact that most Negro patients appear to be located in one room, Smith said.

"We originally had a Negro ward, but when we decided to apply for Medicare, we abolished the room and changed it into a charity ward," he said. It just happened that most persons in the ward were Negroes and they (the HEW) probably felt we weren't integrated."

Smith said he felt there was pressure from "local Negro groups" concerning the hospital's application for a Medicare contract.

The other hospital, Union Memorial, hasn't submitted an application because it has been told it wouldn't be approved because of non-compliance with Title VI, Phil Goodwin, assistant administrator said Tuesday.

"We have been told we would and we have been told we wouldn't," Goodwin said. "We don't know where we stand."

Nebraska Gov. Gets Tough on Rioters

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Omaha's predominantly Negro near North Side was tense but quiet today as Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison said he would not tolerate civil disobedience.

For three straight nights, throngs of adults and youths in the area threw bottles and stones, smashed store windows and then looted the stores.

"Under no circumstances will civil disobedience be tolerated in this state while I am governor," said Morrison at a news conference Tuesday night. He arrived from Los Angeles, where he had been attending the National Governors Conference.

As city police, state safety patrol troopers and National Guardsmen stood ready to swing into action, the governor toured the strife-torn area.

Afterward he said: "I think I am reassured by the conduct I observed during this tour."

"I am convinced that only a very small percentage of the people on the near North Side were involved in this disorder."

"Some people don't realize that violence and civil disorder sets back a cause, rather than advancing it. There is too much talk of rights and not enough of responsibility, but without responsibility there are no rights."

The governor got from Mayor A. V. Sorensen and Douglas Stewart, executive director of the Urban League, a concurring view that the outbreaks stemmed primarily from the same things Stewart said caused the Watts riots in Los Angeles.

That, Stewart and Sorensen agreed, was frustration and despair among young Negroes.

Sorensen told of meeting late Monday night with a bolsterous group of 100 young Negroes, represented to him as among those who had taken part in the first two outbreaks.

Shortly after that meeting the outbreak occurred.

During the outburst, two policemen were slightly injured and 78 arrests were recorded during the three nights.

Figures Tech School Helpful

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — State Rep. David Pryor said Tuesday that a technical school to be established near Camden would "increase substantially the number of skilled workers and technicians in South Arkansas."

Pryor, of Camden, a Democratic candidate for Congress in the 4th District, said the establishment of the school will encourage industries to locate in the area.

The scarcity of skilled labor in the area has been one of the major reasons for failing to entice major industrial firms to move into the area, Pryor said.

"Naturally companies want to locate in an area where they know they can find an abundance of highly trained people instead of having to move them there," he said.

He said the school will be administered by the state Education Department and will be located in buildings on the old Shumaker Naval Ammunition Depot.

Television and Radio

By BUCK HENRY

EDITOR'S NOTE — Buck Henry is one of the pair of comedy writers who dreamed up NBC's hit "Get Smart." But some television viewers will remember him as the bespectacled young man who played in some of the funniest satirical sketches of "That Was the Week That Was."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In the past year several people have expressed their enthusiasm for "Get Smart" by directing the following question to its writers: "Where do you get those wild ideas?"

There is, of course, one simple answer: "We steal them." Sometimes from each other but, more often, from that endless compendium of unbelievable nonsense: the newspaper.

The faithful reader knows that Maxwell Smart, Secret Agent 86, can have no adventure more absurd, no experience more asinine, or no idea more insane than that which is chronicled in the daily Times-Journal-Sun Globe-News. It's not the newspapers' fault—it's just the way folks ARE.

In the pilot film of "Get Smart," we had a maniacal crew of KAOS bad guys attempt to blow up the Statue of Liberty. Several of the script's first critical readers thought that the plot was a little—well—far out.

But a few months after we wrote it a quartet of young Canadian dissidents—none of whom, to my knowledge, had read the script—were caught plotting to give the old lady a dynamite hot-foot. I don't know whether they were inspired by political tension or esthetic distaste, but I am grateful to them for proving that nothing we write is going to be any wackier than something that is actually being done.

Plot: Our man Smart infiltrated a KAOS cell and, after demolishing its dozen members, discovered that they were all, like himself, infiltrators from various government agencies. Item: A Communist cell, broken up some years ago, full of special government agents.

Plot: Smart investigated a band of American Indians who were reputed to have set up a deadly missile aimed at the heart of Washington. The missile turned out to be giant arrows. Item: G's in Viet Nam recently overran a Viet Cong position and confiscated several giant arrows that were being used to knock down helicopters.

Looking for a plot? Try some of the events that are happening within earshot—or is it eyeshot—of this column:

Would you believe that there is a bomb being developed by one of our more surrealist corporations that, when dropped on the enemy, doesn't destroy anything—it merely makes a mind-jumping boom?

Would you believe that a young man has found new happiness taking daily LSD trips with his not nussycat?

Would you believe that there's a woman in Cardiff, Wales, who has cut through the film, "The Sound of Music," over 500 times?

And they said that satire was dead.

Mrs. Sulcer Not Surprised Hubby Filed

By JOHN R. STARR

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Kenneth Sulcer was one of the few Arkansans who were not surprised when her husband filed for governor.

"He has always talked about it and wanted to," she said in an interview.

Her reaction? "I've always gone along with his judgment and I was willing to let him do what he wanted to do."

Mrs. Sulcer won't take as active a campaign role as she would like to for two reasons: She is running Sulcer's furniture store in Osceola and she is expecting her second child in August.

She predicted that Sulcer will try again if he is not elected governor this time. "I want him to stay in politics even if said loses," she said.

Sulcer has been a state representative for seven years when the couple married in 1960. She is his second wife.

They met in Jone, her home town, where Sulcer was in business. He later moved his operations to Osceola. She is the former Doris Jean Holloway.

Mrs. Sulcer's job in this campaign probably will be limited to helping with correspondence and a little watchstanding at the campaign headquarters.

"I would like to go around the state with him, but, under the circumstances, I don't think I'll be able to," he said.

The same kind of circumstances kept Mrs. John F. Kennedy out of the 1960 presidential campaign.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Case of the Dis-

Appearing Husband
Dear Helen: Each time I have a baby it's the same.

My husband disappears.

The first time it happened he said he was going out for some groceries. He came back two weeks later — after neighbors had gotten me to the hospital and home again — and acted as if he hadn't been A. W. O. L., pretending.

All he said was, "You've lost weight since I saw you last." No explanation, just a shrug, and "I'm home, so forget it." He acted scared.

This time, he took our little girl to my mother's, and never came back. I took a taxi to the hospital. Again he returned, two weeks later. I had somebody call his office and they said he was on vacation.

He's just wonderful to us other times. He won't talk about these "vacations." I think they bother him so much he can't.

I think he can't help it. I never mention them to him, but I wish I could.

They bother me so much I never feel really secure. Will he disappear at every crisis in our lives? — T. R. W.

Dear T: Only an expert could diagnose your husband's problem and, hopefully, cure him of this compulsive fear of child birth. Perhaps your family doctor can persuade him he needs help in understanding himself.

Insist that he go in for a check-up.

Sometimes a wife obeys too blindly, not realizing, "I don't want to talk about it" really means, "I've got to talk about, but I can't find the words." — H.

Dear Helen: concerning your answer to "Moustache Minnie" I want to say you are doing electrolysis practitioners a disfavor when you say "Hair removal by electricity is expensive and not always 100 per cent effective."

New and improved methods are very satisfactory these days and the expense is not too bad, as the work is done over an extended period of time.

For women with real moustache problems — is a permanent blessing: the electric needle kills the roots and it's — Hair Today, Gone Tomorrow.

Bossy Women Chill Her
Dear Helen: I have just finished beauticians school, and have lost respect for a lot of women who come to a school like ours.

We do hair for less than half price because we're getting experience, but before we're allowed to work on customers, we know how to operate.

Yet these females order us around as if we were stupid. They tell us how to shampoo, how much 'set' to use, how to comb, and they make us do these things over and over because they are just sure we won't get it right. They grab the combs away from us and ruin all our work with their pushing and prodding. They even tell us where to place each roller even when we KNOW they're wrong.

They're getting a bargain. Why don't they keep their big mouths shut? — Beautician To Be.

P.S. Tell 'em Helen.

Dear B.T.B.: You already did a fine job of telling 'em. I'll only add:

Ladies: student beauticians are human and also a little nervous. Let their teachers give instructions — you'll get a better "do" if YOU don't! — H.

Personal To "Decorator": A frilly canopy bed attracts more dust than husbands. Don't be surprised if yours fights back with a night shirt and lace nightcap. — H.

Announcement.....

To The
Medicare Patients
Of
Hempstead County

The Doctors of the Hempstead County Medical Society have decided not to participate in the Physicians part (Part B) or the Medicare Program to the extent of not accepting assignments from the patient for the Social Security to pay their fees direct to us. This does not mean that we will not care for our Medicare patients. It does mean that our patients are responsible for paying us our fees. The patient can then submit a claim to the Social Security, thru their carrier, for reimbursement in the amount that the Medicare allows. The carrier for the State of Arkansas will be Blue-Cross-Blue Shield. We realize that many of you will not know how to file for reimbursement. Our office will be glad to assist you.

The above decision was made after many months of worry and consideration and we believe that it is the right decision. In this way we believe that the patient-physician relationship will not be jeopardized by the involvement of a third party; namely the Social Security Administration or its Carrier.

Koufax Wins But Gives Up 10 Hits

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax is halfway to a 30-game season and Woody Fryman is just about halfway to Sandy Koufax.

Koufax gave up 10 hits Tuesday night but still won his 15th game as Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 1-0.

Koufax' victory gave him No. 15 earlier than ever before. En route to a 26-victory season last year the 30-year-old left-hander posted his 15th on July 11.

The record of the Dodgers as now reads only three losses 15 complete games in 20 starts three shutouts and a 1.51 earned run average.

Fryman, meanwhile, has compiled a 7-3 mark and a 2.33 ERA while completing seven of 10 starts the first of which he didn't make until May 13. By that time Koufax had started seven times.

And the 23-year-old left-hander actually gained his third shutout before Koufax with all three coming in the last 10 days.

Fryman playing in only his second year of professional ball blanked Philadelphia on three hits New York on one and Chicago on three. Following the one-hitter against the Mets in which Fryman faced the minimum 27 batters New York Manager Wes Westrum said:

"He's as fast as any left-hander I've seen in the league and faster than Sandy Koufax at a given time."

Fryman also has to be as stingy with walks as any left-hander in the league. He walked one batter Tuesday which is the only base on balls he's allowed in three shutouts. Over-all he's averaging one walk every 7.7 innings while Koufax is averaging one every 5.4.

Although Koufax may reach 30 victories before Fryman gets 20 the Pirate youngster has one consolation. He's outlasting Koufax seven to two.

In other National League games St. Louis stopped San Francisco 2-1 Philadelphia defeated New York 3-1 and Atlanta downed Houston 9-4.

In the American League California edged Detroit 4-3, Minnesota ripped Cleveland 4-3 and Boston whipped New York 7-1. Rain washed out Chicago at Washington.

The Dodgers got Koufax a run in the second inning, and he protected it the rest of the way. Jim Lefebvre walked, raced to third on John Roseboro's single and scored as John Kennedy singled. Jim Maloney suffered his fourth defeat against nine victories.

Billy Williams got all three Chicago hits off Fryman, who stopped Ron Santo's hitting streak at 22 games. Donn Clendenon hit a two-run homer for the Pirates while Jose Pagan collected three doubles and drove in two runs.

Al Jackson pitched a two-hitter as St. Louis cut San Francisco's lead over the Pirates to 1½ games. Jackson, 8-6, retired the last 16 batters in a row. Tim McCarver homered for the Cardinals, and Lou Brock stole three bases and scored a run.

Philadelphia's Larry Jackson pitched a six-hitter and doubled home two runs against New York. His clutch double in the sixth put the Phillies ahead 2-1, and he scored the third run on a single by John Callison. Ed Kranepool drove in the Mets' run with a sacrifice fly.

Joe Torre batted in two runs with a homer and scored three times as Atlanta won its fourth straight. Torre led the attack against Houston's Mike Cuellar, who suffered his first setback after winning six games. Dave Nicholson homered twice and Jim Wynn once for the Astros.

Burdette, Adcock Work Over Tigers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Medicare is here but Joe Adcock and Lew Burdette aren't quite ready for it, thank you.

California's two leading senior citizens worked the Detroit Tigers over Tuesday night and handed that young whippersnapper, Denny McLain, his first loss in over a month.

Adcock walloped a three-run homer, his third in three days, and Burdette slammed the door on Detroit rallies in the eighth and ninth innings as the Angels whipped the Tigers 4-3.

Both of the elderly Angels started the game on the bench. Adcock got into the line-up in the fourth after Norm Siebern hurt his right leg running out a single. Burdette was in the bullpen until the eighth when starter Dean Chance and reliever Minnie Rojas ran into trouble.

Adcock, who at 39 is playing in his 17th major league season, hammered his 10th homer of the season in the sixth. That gave the Angels a 4-0 lead but the Tigers fought back, knocking out Chance in the eighth.

Rojas came on and gave up a run-scoring single to Norm Cash before Burdette, who'll be 40 in November, retired Al Kaline, ending the threat.

Burdette, who starred at Milwaukee for 10 seasons with Adcock, got into a jam in the ninth when Paul Schaal booted Bill Freehan's two-out bouncer and Don Wert singled. But he got Jake Wood on a grounder, ending the threat.

In the only other American League games played Tuesday, Boston ripped New York 7-1 as Darrel Brandon won his first major league game, and Minnesota edged Cleveland 4-3. Chicago and Washington were rained out.

In the National League, Philadelphia downed New York 3-1, Atlanta ripped Houston 9-4, St. Louis shaded San Francisco 2-1, Pittsburgh shut out Chicago 6-0 and Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 1-0.

Burdette has been the workhorse of the California relief staff with a 4-1 record in 32 appearances. He has a 3.27 earned run average.

McLain, who hadn't lost since June 4, was the victim of Adcock's homer, the 21st he has allowed this season. The 22-year-old Detroit ace, who was three when Burdette and Adcock broke into professional ball, lost his fourth game in 16 decisions.

Brandon, making only his second start for the Red Sox, pitched a six-hitter and contributed a triple and a single to the Boston attack against the Yankees.

Rico Petrocelli drove in three runs on three hits including a homer and George Smith tagged a three run shot.

Ted Uhlaender doled home the tying run for the Twins in the seventh and Harmon Killebrew's sacrifice fly brought home the winner as Minnesota edged Cleveland.

Tony Oliva whacked his 16th homer for Minnesota while Rocky Colavito and Chuck Hinton connected for the Indians.

Tuesday's Fights

Larry Mahan Doesn't Mind at $33 Per Bump; His Rodeo 'Take' Is Tops

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DENVER (ENEA)—Larry Mahan is the Arnold Palmer of the rodeo set.

Of course, he doesn't fly his own twin-engine jet—only a single-engine propeller craft, the Comanche 250.

But that's the difference when you're the leading money winner in the Bull Riding Division of the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

A year ago, Mahan won $24,000 on the rodeo circuit, $18,105 alone for bull riding. Palmer makes that much on a good day. He also has been known to blow that much on a bad day.

It takes Larry Mahan nearly 365 days to make that kind of cash.

"The rodeo season lasts all year," he said. "I think I was home (Brooks, Ore.) a total of one month last year. Now that I've got the plane it makes things a little easier."

After hours anyway.

During working hours there is nothing easy about Larry's profession. He's got the scars and bruises to prove it.

"Yes," he said, "bull riding is about the most dangerous of all the rodeo events. To win the kind of money I did, you have to get on a lot of bulls."

The object is to stay on the bull for eight seconds—if you can. "I stayed on about 60 per cent of my bulls that long last year," Mahan said.

"The other times... well... you know what happens." It's during those other times that the danger rises. "A lot of bulls know when they've thrown you," Larry said, "and they'll try to turn on you. Others will stop and go right out of the ring."

"They average about 1,400 pounds, but I've ridden some bigger. One was 2,100 pounds. I stayed on him five seconds."

Even when the rider stays on for the maximum of eight seconds, he has the problem of getting off the bull safely. "Usually, you try to time it at the peak of a jump," Larry said. "Then you just get as far out of the way as possible and let the clowns take over. They get the bull's attention while the rider gets out."

There have been times when Larry didn't get away fast enough. In 1964, a bull stopped on him, breaking his jaw. The bull quite aptly, was named "Stonehead."

"When my injuries come," Mahan said, "they seem to come all at once. For one week this year I ached so much I was wondering if I would be able to get on a bull again."

"Most of the time I feel like a football player who goes through a tough game. You just get used to it and take what's coming."

This has been a productive year so far for Larry. In addition to the bull riding, he has been entering the saddle and bareback bronc events.

"I've got nearly $12,000 so far," he said. "And I'll be riding on the average of five days a week from here on."

At that rate, each bump is worth $33.

The only time it doesn't hurt is when Larry Mahan stops at the bank.

PITCHING—Woody Fryman, Pittsburgh, pitched a three-hitter for his third consecutive shutout as the Pirates defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-0.
BATTING—Rico Petrocelli, Boston, rapped a single, a double and a homer, driving in three runs, as the Red Sox whipped the New York Yankees 7-1.

The Base Construction of Shover Street, Improvement District No. 37, has been completed. The photos show the steps in this construction. The ditches were first bladed, necessary gravel added, and the roadbed shaped initially. Next water was applied and the entire roadbed was rolled with an 8-ton self-propelled pneumatic roller. The final step was the final shaping and blading of the road surface.

According to Dave Peters, City Engineer, the sealing work in this Improvement District should be completed by Thursday, July 7. The co-operation of the motoring public will be appreciated until the completion of this work. Also Mr. Peters thanks the motoring public for their co-operation thus far.

Ashdown Paper Mill Groundbreaking on July 12

PROPOSED SOUTHERN MILL
NEKOOSA EDWARDS PAPER CO.

Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Company will break ground for its Ashdown, Arkansas, pulp and paper mill on Tuesday, July 12, at 11:00 a. m. The public is cordially invited to attend this ceremony at the site of the new mill just south of the city of Ashdown on U.S. Highway 71. The $46 million project will include a pulp mill with a capacity of 100 tons per day and a 200-ton-per-day paper mill, plus supporting facilities. Employment at the Ashdown mill is expected to reach about 465 persons.

Sam Casey, Nekoosa president, said the mill is scheduled to begin operation before the end of 1968. The pulp mill will produce craft pulp from pine and hardwood grown in the Ashdown area. Besides supplying the Ashdown paper mill, pulp from Arkansas will be shipped to the company's four northern mills in Port Edwards, Nekoosa and Stevens Point, Wisconsin, and Potsdam, New York.

The new plant will increase Nekoosa's capacity for production of business communication papers for printing and converting by more than 25 per cent. Present capacity, including a 100-ton-per-day paper machine nearing completion in the Port Edwards mill, is 735 tons per day.

Arkansas Outdoors

By GEORGE M. PURVIS,
Chief Information-
Education Division

There's nothing new about duck bands being sent in to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service by hunters, but when a tag from a duck banded 12 years ago is sent in, that's news.

The mallard hen apparently fell for Arkansas, having been banded with No. 557-3113 in Arkansas County in 1953 and having met her Waterloo in the same county last year.

Dave Donaldson, G & F biologist, banded the hen on the Wraps plantation north of Reynolds in Arkansas county. He remarked that the duck had flown at least 3,000 miles per year for the last 12 years in its migration between Canada and Arkansas. The hen was killed last year by J. B. Rogers of DeWitt, who returned the band.

A mallard drake banded 11 years ago — January 2, 1955, to be exact — near the same area was killed last November at Bay Port, Michigan. Another hunter from Missouri returned a band from a mallard drake banded near Reynolds in 1956 and killed last year.

These incidents are very unusual, says Donaldson, since most ducks — banded and non-banded — seldom live more than two to four years because of natural and hunting mortality. In this state the oldest band returned by a duck hunter was a 14-year-old one.

Seems Liquid Hydrogen Is Harnessed

By HOWARD BENEDECT
Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., (AP) — After years of engineering headaches, it appears that U.S. scientists have harnessed liquid hydrogen as a high-energy rocket fuel for man-to-the-moon and other space missions.

The breakthrough came Tuesday when America's heaviest satellite, a 29-ton rocket stage, huddled around the globe for three orbits while ground stations monitored the behavior of 10 tons of hydrogen packed in the fuel tank.

Throughout this 4½-hour period, the hydrogen performed better than expected, thanks to a unique system of small rockets and gas vents that created a tiny thrust to keep the fuel positioned in the bottom of the 64,000-gallon tank, at the end of the engine.

Under weightless conditions on previous tests with smaller rockets, the fuel had a tendency to curl into a ball, climb the walls of the tank or vaporize.

When the thrust was removed on command for brief periods Tuesday, the hydrogen reacted to its weightless world, forming into small globules that floated in the empty portion at the top of the tank, at times obscuring the view of a television camera that relayed pictures to the ground.

Under great acceleration by larger rockets, the liquid bubbled in its frigid chamber, where temperatures of 423 degrees below zero were needed to keep the hydrogen in a liquid state.

But each time, when the gentle thrust was applied, the hydrogen settled to the bottom, with hardly a ripple on the surface, demonstrating that the engine could have been restarted — a must for manned lunar-landing flights.

A second start of the satellite engine was not attempted Tuesday because the rocket stage was fitted to handle an excess amount of hydrogen in order to give ground stations a greater opportunity to observe this volatile fuel.

A Saturn 1 rocket, most powerful yet launched by the United States, boosted its second stage into space as the test laboratory. This second stage, which fired its engine to attain orbital speed, is the same as the rocket which will form the third stage of the mammoth Saturn 5 rocket that will hurl Project Apollo astronauts on moon journeys.

On a moon shot, the Saturn 5 third stage will have to coast around the globe for up to three orbits — as the satellite did Tuesday — then restart its engine at the desired time and location to provide the final thrust for the astronauts.

Hydrogen is 40 per cent more powerful than conventional liquid fuels. Without it, the Saturn 5 would not have enough power to send the heavy 92,000-pound Apollo craft to the moon.

The success of the Saturn 1 also provided NASA with confidence to move ahead with two key shots later this year, both using this booster. An unmanned Apollo moonship is to be launched on a test flight in August. If that flight is okay, the first three-man Apollo crew may ride into earth orbit in November to check out all spacecraft systems for up to 14 days.

After three orbits Tuesday, ground stations concluded their major tests with the satellite. It is expected to re-enter the atmosphere and burn up Saturday.

Leftwings to Fight Wilson

LONDON (AP) — Left-wing Laborites and key union leaders are teaming up to fight a proposal by Prime Minister Harold Wilson to fine companies and union members that don't restrict wages and prices to the rise in national production.

Many union leaders are enraged over the proposed bill. It requires business and unions to submit to a national board demands for higher prices or bigger wages.

The board would decide whether the increases were justified and in line with the rise in 3½ per cent a year. Violators would be subject to fines of up to $1,400.

Kidnap Still Mystery After Whole Year

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)

— Capt. Elza Hatfield, a veteran Kansas City policeman whose major-case unit gets the worst crimes, reached into his pocket and pulled out a picture of a blue-eyed girl, her mischievous, freckled face ringed with curls.

"I carry that with me wherever I go," Hatfield said. "Every man in the office does."

The portrait was that of Denise Sue Clinton, 9 years old and on summer vacation when she was taken July 8 a year ago by a robber who apparently took her only as an afterthought.

There has been no trace of her — no torn or discarded clothing, no ransom demand, no indication whether she is dead or alive.

All that police and the FBI had to go on was a picture of a 33-year-old former mental patient that the girl's grandparents said resembled the robber.

The man, identified as Robert Lee Hays, was arrested Monday night — four days short of the anniversary of the kidnapping — in Oklahoma City on a warrant charging unlawful flight. He had been sought on robbery warrants issued in Topeka, Kan., in September 1963 and in Kansas City.

He was arraigned in Oklahoma City Tuesday before U.S. Commissioner Jim Gullett and held under $2,000 bond.

Both the FBI and Kansas City police said they wanted to question Hays about the kidnapping to eliminate him as a suspect. He probably will be returned to Topeka on the warrant charging him with robbing the Peacock laundry there. The grandparents will be taken to view him.

Hays denied in Oklahoma City Tuesday night that he kidnaped Denise. He also denied robbing the Peacock laundry.

Denise's mother, Mrs. Russell Clinton, says: "I believe I'm the only one who believe she's still alive. Hundreds of people wish she were, of course, but I believe it."

"I try to keep a level head about it, I also try to remember to realize that it might not be true. But as long as nobody finds her—"

The question, "Is she alive, is she dead" is debated agonizingly by Mrs. Clinton and her husband.

"There are times when my enthusiasm builds up," says Clinton, service manager for a new-car dealer. "There are times when it fades some. Until they prove to me with some evidence that she is not alive, I won't believe she is dead. But I don't understand how she could disappear from the face of the earth without some clue."

Denise had just returned from a vacation in California with her parents and 6-year-old sister Diana. She spent the first night with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Chelcie Reynolds, managers of a Kansas City motel.

Can't Get Away From Those Taxes

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO (AP) — Motorists who take long vacation trips will get away from home, office and dull daily routine — but not from taxes.

Commerce Clearing House studied the nation's tax map and reported today:

Forty-two states and the District of Columbia levy general sales taxes.

Every state except North Carolina taxes cigarettes.

And all have state taxes on gasoline.

Commerce Clearing House, a private organization which does research on tax and business law for its clients, said sales tax rates range from 2 per cent in Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Nevada, New York, Oklahoma, Texas and Virginia to 5 per cent in Pennsylvania.

Virginia recently adopted a 2 per cent sales tax, but it won't go into effect until Sept. 1.

That will leave only Alaska, Delaware, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oregon and Vermont without a general sales tax.

This tax on sales and services is popular with the collectors. It brings in about 26 per cent of the total state revenues.

Commerce Clearing House says state gasoline taxes range from 5 cents a gallon in Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Texas and Wyoming to a combined Hawaii-Hawaii County tax of 11 cents a gallon.

New Jersey boosted its cigarette tax rate this year from 8 cents to 11 cents, joining Texas and Washington as the states with the highest rates on cigarettes.

"In the case of cigarette and gasoline taxes," Commerce Clearing House said, "the state rates are in addition to an 8-cent-a-pack federal cigarette tax and a 4-cent-a-gallon federal gasoline tax, as well as similar levies made by hundreds of cities and towns."

"For example, cigarette buyers in New York City pay 22 cents a pack in taxes consisting of 4 cents city tax, 10 cents state tax and 8 cents federal tax. And motorists to the caverns of Carlsbad, N.M., will pay a gasoline tax of 11 cents comprised of 4 cents federal 8 cents state and 1 cent city."

As parting advice, the tax research organization said travelers may find local sales taxes in many communities.

HARRISON, Ark. (AP)—Troy Curtis, 75, and his wife Cora, 73, of Harrison died Tuesday in a pickup truck-car collision about 10 miles northeast of here on Arkansas 7.

State Trooper Hansel Bradford said the Curtis truck and a car driven by Roy Rogers, 19, of near Yellville, collided. Rogers was not hurt, Bradford said.

"I think the first step should be to take a close look at the actual violators," Lacy said, "and even into cases where a license has been revoked."

1966-67 Hunting Licenses To Go On Sale July First

Arkansas hunters are reminded that 1966-67 licenses will go on sale July 1. The license will cost residents $3.50, while non-residents may buy either a small-game license for $20 or a big-game for $30. Deer and turkey cannot be hunted by non-residents with small-game permits.

Resident children under 16 are exempt from license requirements, but non-resident hunters of any age must hold a license. At present only predators and unprotected species can be hunted on the new license, since no season on game species will be open before September.

PACK TIGHT — TRAVEL LIGHT

Planning a vacation wardrobe? For a look that is light, right and uncluttered, get set to go-go in knits. They pack tight, go in style in any season. This trim, striped T-shirt skimmer by Jonathan Logan is a perfect example of a knit to pack for that special trip. It can be worn for early morning sight-seeing, leisurely luncheons and afternoon gallery-gazing — can be hand-laundered and needs no ironing. It is available in white with black, red or bronze stripes.

More tips for traveling light: buy toiletries and cosmetics in small sizes. Stuff shoes with stockings, gloves and small items to save space. When you check to see if everything is packed, be sure your camera isn't! Keep it on hand, literally, and be ready to shoot the highlights of your vacation so that you can relive the excitement later. There's nothing like home movies to stretch those golden vacation days.

New compact models, like the new Kodak Instamatic Movie Cameras, make fine traveling companions. They are smart to carry—may be loaded instantly, even in bright sunshine, and take home movies that are especially clear and colorful. For interesting vacation movies, take lots of close-ups. Don't forget to shoot signs and markers—they provide colorful, ready-made movie titles. Shoot pictures no matter what the weather's like, because chances are you won't have an opportunity to come back for a second try.

THE BORN LOSER

Cremation, widely practiced in the ancient world, has remained common throughout the eastern world and is becoming increasingly acceptable in the western world. In Great Britain, cremation represents about one-third of the total body disposals, which is about the same percentage for Europe and the Scandinavian countries. This is much more than the number of cremations in the United States, where there are about 300,000 each year.

Jim says: "We recently pointed out that there is no need to rebid a five-card suit merely because you hold one. Here is a hand where West held two five-card suits and felt compelled to show both of them. His opponents went on to play the hand and made their contract due to the information given by West's bids."

Oswald: "West had nothing to gain by his three-club bid. His opponents were bidding major suits and might have been able to double him had their minor suit cards been distributed differently."

Jim: "Well, West wasn't vulnerable. As it was, South played the hand well. He started by ducking the diamond opening. West continued the suit and South was in with the ace. He decided that West had to hold five cards in each minor suit for his bids. That would leave only three cards in the majors and if his singleton was in hearts a trump finesse would be needed. Could he find out about that singleton?"

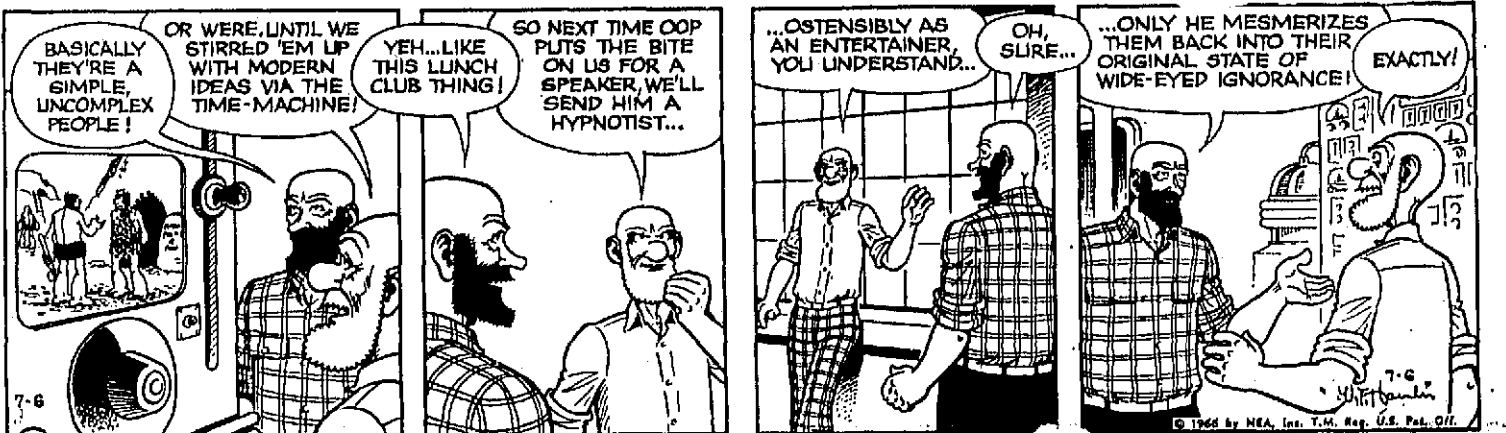

Oswald: "Let's see. He led a spade to dummy's king and returned to his own hand by ruffing a diamond. Then he led a second spade to the ace. When West followed, South played his ace and another trump, finessed against East's jack, drew trumps and eventually lost two clubs."

Jim: "His line of play also guarded against a singleton spade in the West hand. Had West ruffed the second spade South would have been able to discard one of his clubs on the spade ace later on and still make his contract."

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Dumping Syndrome Bothers Many High-Strung People

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

(First of two related columns)

One of the most unpleasant results of the removal of a large part of the stomach is a condition called the dumping syndrome. Some persons with a surgically diminished stomach within an hour or less after eating feel suddenly weak, have a drenching sweat and are dizzy and nauseated. This is because the food in their stomachs is precipitously dumped into the upper small intestine (jejunum) too rapidly.

The victims are usually women with a highly sensitive nature. It has been shown that the spells are most likely to occur when a large amount of cold liquid is imbibed hurriedly. If the meal contains a large proportion of sugar, the spell will come on even more quickly. The cause, therefore, appears to be a high degree of jejunal irritability with cold, distention and sugar acting as the principal irritants.

The prevalence of this condition has discouraged many surgeons from removing part of the stomach if the patient is high-strung and if the reason for considering the operation is a chronic stomach ulcer. If, on the other hand, the patient has a gastric cancer, there is no choice but to remove it.

Those who suffer from the dumping syndrome can learn to control the attacks by using a judicious diet low in carbohydrates, avoiding cold fluids and taking methysergide or cyproheptadine. These measures rarely fail but when they do, certain operative procedures may be required to correct the trouble.

Q—My husband has had a duodenal ulcer for 20 years. Recently he lost a lot of tarry blood in his stool and became very weak. The doctor said his ulcer was bleeding. How could he tell without taking X rays?

A—Although there are other causes of blood in the stool, a massive hemorrhage is almost always from a bleeding ulcer, especially if the blood has been exposed to the digestive juices and is tarry rather than bright red. Your husband's long history of ulcer was another clue.

X rays would have shown nothing unless he drank a mixture of barium sulfate and water. In an acute emergency, this would have added to his ordeal and would have furnished little information. When he has had time to regain his strength, his doctor may want to X ray his stomach.

it's worth my LIFE to climb that pole !

During the heat of a political campaign, people forget that it is not only illegal but dangerous to nail campaign cards on utility poles. If a lineman climbing a pole hits a tack or staple with his spurs, he is fortunate if he doesn't fall to the ground with serious or fatal injuries. Banners tied between poles are also a hazard for installers and for the public.

We never give permission for signs or banners to be placed on our poles. It's not a question of politics but of regard for human life. We ask this of all candidates and installers: PLEASE DO NOT PUT CARDS OR BANNERS ON UTILITY POLES. Please help us avoid tragedy.

Star Preparing to End Use of Linotypes

Linotypes and the metal type slugs which have been associated with newspaper printing for generations will disappear from Hope Star's composing room this week — marking the final stage in our conversion to the offset production system.

The first and major step was taken last December 29 when we converted to the rotary offset press. As of January 7 we dropped the assembly of advertisements and pages in metal — but continued to use our hot-metal machines to produce type, from which proofs were struck to be photographed, the type then being thrown away.

But the days of Linotypes and hot-metal printing are numbered on small and medium-size newspapers. And The Star is resolved to be a front-runner in the parade of progress.

And so we have a battery of new machines in the composing room today and the fires under the Linotypes will be turned out this week and the machines themselves shipped to purchasers elsewhere in the state. The buyers are commercial print shops, which will always need hot-metal production.

The new replacement machines turning out "cold type," that is, proof sheets without any metal originals, are of two classes: (1) A pair of Fairchild Morisawa photo-setters producing headlines and text for advertisements; and (2) two pairs of Friden Just-O-Writers, high-speed machines similar to oversize electric typewriters, which compose our local and telegraph news.

You have been looking at the new-style Morisawa-produced headlines for two weeks, and today you will see some of the work of the Just-O-Writers. All of the local news and some of the telegraph items were handled by the Just-O-Writers, producing a crisper, more legible column than the blacker print of the Linotype-produced proofs.

Like the Teletypesetter-operated Linotypes, which The Star pioneered for the nation in June 1942, the Just-O-Writers also operate automatically from a perforated tape.

Later on we will tell this final chapter of the offset conversion with pictures and text in detail.

Joffa Keeps Everyone in the Dark

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — James R. Hoffa kept other high Teamsters Union officials in the dark today about whether he will keep his promise to resign as president of the giant union if he goes to prison.

"He wouldn't resign if he had two machine guns pointed at him," snorted one member of the powerful Teamsters executive board which Hoffa so far has kept from open rebellion.

"He's made that commitment and I think he will," said another board member of Hoffa's promise to quit if he loses appeals on his federal jury-tampering and mail-fraud convictions.

The question is crucial in the power struggle shaping up among the 13 Teamsters vice presidents despite Hoffa's denial of any dispute in the union hierarchy.

Hoffa prepared today to gavel through constitutional changes boosting his salary from $75,000 to $100,000 a year, authorizing the union to pay his huge legal expenses and empowering him to assign his duties to a new general vice president if he is jailed.

Another Purged by Chinese

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communist party struck down a vice minister of culture and one other culprit today in its expanding purge.

The latest victims were Vice Minister Lin Mo-han, who also was deputy propaganda director of the party's central committee, and Shao Chuan-lin, writer and theorist.

Shots From Train Kill 2 Negroes

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Shotgun blasts from a moving car killed two Negro transients Tuesday night in Sacramento's skid row area. Police arrested three white men.

The victims, shot in the neck and groin, fell in the Old Sacramento district made up of flop houses, abandoned buildings dating from the gold rush, saloons, a strip tease joint, cheap restaurants and small motion picture houses.

Arrested were three young men from towns across the Sacramento River, to the west.

Police, citing recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions concerning the rights of defendants, refused to give details. They said they had not established a motive.

The dead, one of whom fell on the south side of J Street and the other on the north side, were identified from Social Security cards found in their pockets as Harry Brown and Ernest Martin. Their ages and home towns were not available.

Police Chief Joseph Rooney declared: "As far as I'm concerned, there are no racial overtones" to the shooting.

His attitude was backed by Robert Puglia, Sacramento County chief deputy district attorney, who said: "There is no reason to believe on the evidence available that this incident was racially motivated."

He added: "I can't give any motive on the basis of the information we have."

"From all the recent court decisions, we have no information we can give you," Rooney told reporters.

Sulcer Gets Top Spot on the Ballot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was just luck, but there seemed to be a lot of logic when Democratic candidates for governor drew for spots on the primary ballot in Pulaski County Tuesday.

Kenneth Sulcer got the No. 1 spot, and he was the first man to file. Frank Holt got No. 7 and he was seventh to file.

The Pulaski County ballot lineup will read like this: Sulcer, Sam Boyce, Jim Johnson, Dale Alford, Raymond Rebsamen, Brooks Hays and Holt.

The drawing was but a small development in the Democratic race, however, as Boyce, Hays, Alford and Johnson each tried to come up with something new.

Alford proposed in a televised speech a sweeping reorganization of the state's medical services, saying the Medicare program has made drastic demands on medical services that require a bold new program.

He proposed that state institutions such as the Booneville and McRae Sanatoriums, the Rehabilitation Center at Hix Springs, the Children's Colony at Conway and some private hospitals be consolidated into the University of Arkansas Medical Center teaching program.

Alford promised to push for construction of regional state-supported hospitals which would put first-class medical care within easy reach of every citizen.

He also proposed a three-man insurance commission with an executive director to protect the interests of Arkansans.

Alford took up for what he called "the young, reliable and dependable life insurance companies which have been lumped into the rate raise scandal which has to do only with insurance on automobiles."

He said the state also had reliable health and casualty companies "that need to be supported."

On welfare, Alford said he is not going to make any promise to welfare recipients that he cannot fulfill. He said he would have at the head of the welfare program people "who know your needs, people who will be sympathetic with you."

With the help of welfare department personnel, Alford said "I assure you of more help than you have ever had from the welfare program."

Boyce also went on television Tuesday night, and his message was that the state Highway Department was "politically dominated."

He said if he was elected governor, he would create a commission to "eliminate waste and streamline our state government."

Another Boyce suggestion was that county roads be put in the state highway system.

"We have 75 different county road systems, in addition to the state system," Boyce said.

"Only when all of the county roads are made a part of the state system can there be a progressive development in our overall system of highways and roads."

Boyce said the county roads could be included in the state highway system without divesting the counties of local control.

In a speech at DeWitt, Johnson proposed a state law to require a public disclosure of ownership of race tracks and wholesale and retail liquor outlets.

He had received a report, he said, that "an out-of-state syndicate" was buying up controlling interest in the Southland Racing Corp., which owns the dog racing track at West Memphis.

"We, the people," Johnson said, "are entitled to know who owns these operations. If the syndicates are moving into the state we have the right to know about it."

In an earlier appearance at Brinkley, Johnson walked past a group of Negroes without shaking their hands, although he had been shaking hands with white persons, a newspaper quoted him as saying.

Asked for comment about this, the newspaper quoted Johnson as saying:

"I'm not campaigning among the colored community."

At Little Rock, Hays cited the highway death toll over the July Fourth holiday and proposed a Commission on Highway Safety. This commission, he said, would come under the Transit Authority, which Hays has said he will establish if he is elected governor.

"We must end this high loss of lives," Hays said. "By removing mechanical and road hazards and by seeing that every driver is qualified," Traffic accidents in Arkansas claimed 21 lives over the long weekend.

One of Hays' well known friends, Mitch Miller, will be in the state today for a series of appearances, including some in behalf of Hays' candidacy.

Legislators Lose Power

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — President Humberto Castello Branco has taken away the political rights of 26 state legislators and 21 other politicians for 10 years in an apparent move to insure victory for his own candidates in gubernatorial elections Sept. 3.

The president can purge any federal, state or city official if the move is recommended by the National Security Council.

Tomato Harvest

WARREN, Ark. (AP) — Pink tomato harvest hit its peak on Monday — Independence Day — officials of the two tomato sheds in Bradley County said Tuesday.

On that day, the Hermitage shed sold 47,402 lugs, and the Warren shed sold 10,942 lugs. A lug is 20 pounds. Officials said prices ranged from $3.90 for top grade to $1.47 for unclassified tomatoes.

Communists Can't Win, Johnson Says

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, declaring the Communists know they cannot win a military victory in Viet Nam, has voiced optimism that "we are on the way" to solving the Vietnamese problem.

Johnson planned a series of Viet Nam conferences at his ranch home near here tonight, summoning Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and other military and diplomatic advisers for an overnight business visit.

The President expressed an optimistic view of the war during a news conference Tuesday on the front lawn of his ranch — a session preceded by a barbecue buffet lunch served by Mrs. Johnson and daughter Luci.

Taking the wraps off a top secret message from the Pentagon, Johnson cited estimates that stepped-up bombing raids on the Hanoi-Haiphong area have wiped out 87 per cent of North Viet Nam's petroleum storage facilities. He said 87 per cent of all storage capacity has been hit during the raids that began last week.

Other conference highlights: —Discussing racial problems, Johnson indirectly chided militant Negro leaders by asserting: "We are not interested in black power and we are not interested in white power, but we are interested in American democratic power, with a small 'd.'"

Some militants have raised "black power" as a battle cry.

Turning to politics, the President said "as time permits, I will be traveling throughout the country" in the four months between now and the November elections. He said that if he continues his recent travel rate, he could cover all 50 states by late October.

The latest budget deficit, he reported, will be "far below" the $6.4-billion estimate he gave Congress in January. He said final figures for the fiscal year that ended June 30 aren't yet available, however.

In one of his opening announcements at the conference, the first since last August to be broadcast live by the television-radio networks, Johnson disclosed tentative plans to cut down planned purchases of bombs and ammunition for Viet Nam.

He said McNamara tells him substantial reductions in projected production rates may be desirable within three to six months, at a savings of several hundred million dollars.

Right now, Johnson said, ordinance inventories are ample and production exceeds usage in Viet Nam. He said he doesn't want to be stuck with $12 billion of worthless and obsolete military hardware when the war ends — which he said was the case after the Korean War.

Threats Brings Several Charges

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Three Washington County men were charged Tuesday with disturbing the peace, malicious mischief, destruction of public and private property, grand larceny and threats with a firearm.

Deputy Pros. Atty. Bass Trumbo said the three were Leon Ashworth, James Slavens and Harley Estes. Ashworth was also charged with assault and battery, Trumbo said.

The men were charged in connection with the alleged terrorizing of residents of West Fork, about 10 miles south of here, early Saturday morning, he said.

Mayor J. N. McKnight said there was a fourth man connected with the incident, and residents were trying to determine his identity.

Pleased with Poverty War

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sargent Shriver, who heads the War on Poverty, said Tuesday on a tour of Texas he was pleased with the progress of the war in the five-state Southwest Region, which includes Arkansas.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., told the staff at the Office of Economic Opportunity Southwest Headquarters, "you've got the best regional program in the United States of America."

He urged them to keep their "missionary zeal."

The five states in this region are Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Shriver said there had been a lot of stories about poverty funds being spent for such things as ballet and golf lessons. Every story of that kind that he has heard has been false, he said.

Child Drowns at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Doug Burton, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Burton of Little Rock, drowned Tuesday while attending a water safety class at the YMCA swimming pool here, police said.

No one knew how young Burton happened to drown, Capt. A. C. McMurphy of the Police Department said. His body was found in about three feet of water.

The youth's father is prominent in Republican Party affairs in Arkansas.

Two Arkansans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two servicemen Tuesday who were listed by the Defense Department as having been killed in action in Viet Nam.

They were Pfc. Bobby Morden husband of Mrs. Fay D. Morden of near Volonia and Pvt. Carlos Conrad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Conrad of near Cornum.

Morden was in the Marine Corps and Conrad in the Army.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has set up the machinery whereby the cotton industry may launch a $15 million annual research and promotional program.

It will depend on the votes of the cotton producers who would foot the bill.

The program would finance research on ways to cut production costs and to increase sales of cotton goods through advertising and promotional campaigns.

The bill providing the machinery to establish the program has been set by Congress to the White House. The measure involves no federal expense.

The program would be financed by the cotton growers who would be assessed $1 a bale when they sell their cotton. The money would be withheld by the ginners.

Since the producers grow about 15 million bales of cotton, the withholding would produce about $15 million a year.

However, farmers who decide not to participate in the program would have their assessments refunded under a pro-

Child Killed in Accident

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — Donna Cardwell, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Cardwell, was killed Tuesday when an upright piano overturned on her in the carport of the family home.

Carl McKinney, Benton County coroner, said the accident occurred as Mrs. Cardwell was pushing the piano from a storeroom at the rear of the carport.

Cardwell is the former general manager of the Rogers Daily News.

U.S. Planes Dodge Red Missiles

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American warplanes dodged a heavy onslaught of Soviet-made missiles over North Viet Nam's Red River Valley Tuesday during one of the heaviest raiding days of the war.

The U.S. military command announced at a briefing today that 27 to 29 surface-to-air missiles had been fired at U.S. planes. A few hours later, however, official spokesman reported there may have been some duplicate sightings in the accounts from pilots.

The spokesman said it probably would be at least 12 hours before intelligence reports could be sorted out and a definite figure established.

The original announcement said it had been the largest number of missiles fired in a single day since the beginning of the air war and despite the confusion later, it obviously represented a day of heavy missile activity. The largest number of missiles sighted previously was 12 one day last March and it was believed Tuesday's firings exceeded that total.

The missiles were fired from sites in the Red River Valley 50 to 115 miles north and northwest of Hanoi. U.S. Air Force pilots reported wrecking four of the sites and also hitting two fuel depots within 33 miles of the North Vietnamese capital.

One of the oil storage areas was 28 miles north of Hanoi, the other 33 miles northwest.

Air Force and carrier-based Navy jets flew a total of 106 multiple missions, a new high in the 18-month air war. But a spokesman said the missions did not involve a record number of planes.

A mission usually involves three or four planes which may make several sorties or single strikes against targets.

"It was a high day for sorties but not a record day," the spokesman said.

The raiding fighter-bombers also hammered at bridges, barracks, storage areas, anti-aircraft sites and other installations in the southern panhandle as well as the Red River Valley.
